ABOUT ETATRON D.S.

Etatron D.S. produces and develops a wide range of dispenser pumps with magnetic and motor drive, specially designed to aid the business of qualified companies operating successfully in the industrial sector as well as public and private service companies.

This company, with innovative creativity typical of the Italian Industrial mentality, occupies an important place among the larger international competitors, and sells its products in over 70 countries (70% of approximately 80,000 products sold are exported).

Every product represents more than 30 years of experience of strongly motivated staff, backed by constant research and innovation in the development of new solutions to meet specific client requirements. All products are certified CE or CSA and, as such, subject to strict controls that correspond to parameters of high quality. The success of Etatron D.S. in the world is growing thanks also to an extensive network of distributors and prompt service to clients and business partners.

You are invited to contact our South African importer, (National Rotating Equipment) NRE should you wish to know more about our company or the many products we have to offer.

We look forward to a mutually beneficial business relationship with you.
